

We counted off to form four teams. Each team dressed one of it's members in what they thought our "Mothers" should wear on Mothers Day. I can't imagine my mother in any one of the outfits but a good time was had by all.

(The mother's day idea could be used for father's day also)